Chilean Refugees Seize U.N. Office

A group of 16 Chileans and one Brazilian seized the office of the United Nations High Commission for Refugees in Buenos Aires on 8 October. Fourteen Argentine employees were held hostage. The group said it wanted to draw world attention to the way Latin refugees are being treated. On 10 October they and their families left for Algeria, which agreed to give them asylum, and the hostages were released.

I. Terrorist Threats and Plans:

Western Hemisphere, Including the United States

Target: U.S. EMBASSY

Place: Argentina, Buenos Aires

Date: Unspecified

 Representatives of youth sections of several leftist parties in Argentina have been discussing a Montoneros suggestion for an attack on the U.S. Embassy. 3.3(b)(1) The purpose of the attack would be to protest the alleged U.S. position of refusing to accept leftist political refugees. The leftists are anticipating a right-wing coup and therefore are trying to line up places of sanctuary. Some of the groups represented opposed the Montoneros' suggestion, and another meeting was scheduled for 10 October to discuss the situation further. 3.5(c)

Kidnappings Continue in Argentina

The Montoneros have claimed responsibility for the kidnapping of Franz Metz, the West German production manager of the Mercedes-Benz truck factory in Buenos Aires, where 4,000 workers have been on strike for the past three weeks. A communique from the Montoneros stated that Metz will be held hostage until Mercedes-Benz rehires 119 workers who were dismissed and recognizes the leaders of the strike as the workers' representatives. Metz has not been seen since he left work on Friday, 24 October.

Elsewhere in Argentina, Noel Salomon, a visiting literature professor from France, managed to flee when a group of armed men burst into his home in Mendoza, Argentina on 22 October. Salomon, who was unharmed, teaches at the University of Cuyo in Mendoza on a cultural exchange program. The identity of the terrorists is unknown. 3.5(c)
